

Southern Accents

BEAUTIFUL HOMES, GRACIOUS LIVING, A SENSE OF PLACE

68 pages of

Holiday Ideas

GREAT HOSTS SHARE THEIR SECRETS

GIFTS FOR EVERYONE ON YOUR LIST

TOUR OUR COLORFUL
SHOWHOUSE

ACCENTS ON

holiday gift ideas

Wrap up the year in style with fabulous gift suggestions from Southerners Jane Scott Hodges, Matt and Ted Lee, Betty Burgess, Richard Keith Langham, and Peggy Sewell

“For the holidays, I try to give a gift that has special meaning, whether it is something I have personally enjoyed or a gift I know the recipient will cherish.”

—JANE SCOTT HODGES, Leontine Linens, Lerington/New Orleans

CLOCKWISE FROM LEFT: “I love julep cups for flower arrangements as well as cocktails. I’m partial to Bulleit Bourbon because a friend took a historic brand and reintroduced it” (julep cup, $465, engraving separate, from Wakefield-Scearce Galleries, 502/633-4382, and bourbon, $25, 800/767-3123). “I incorporated artichokes into the garland on my mantel, and then steamed them for a post-holiday dinner” ($18 for a box, through Pezzini Farms, 800/347-6118). “Sucré is an exquisite shop based in New Orleans, but their French macaroons take me straight to Paris” ($20 for a box of 15, 504/520-8311). “Monogrammed linens are the perfect heirloom gift” (napkin, $65, and guest towels, $70 each, by Leontine Linens, 800/876-4799). “Created by my mother, my charm bracelet is like a living history. This bracelet could be the beginning for a new one” (three-charm bracelet, as shown, $950, by Slane & Slane through Simon Jewelers, 336/887-9394).

